Colour Guide

There are several factors to consider when selecting the ideal colour for your aluminium windows and doors including complementing the design of the building, as well as suitability of the surrounding environment.

Darley provides the ideal solution with a range of finishing options that can perfectly compliment any residential or commercial project.

Darley offers a number of architectural finishes for our window, door and framing systems including powder coating, anodising and wood-grain finishes. These options give our customers the flexibility to match their windows and doors to suit the style and aesthetic of their project.

Maintenance

Powder coating provides an attractive finish to aluminium windows, doors, framing and other architectural products, and like other painted surfaces requires regular maintenance for long lasting performance. As per the Australian standard AS3175, regularly cleaning every 3 months in high density urban and coastal areas is recommended.

A gentle clean with a soft bristled brush and a mild detergent, followed by a rinse with fresh water.

It is not recommended to use strong cleaning detergents solvents or abrasive products, as they may degrade the paint finish. To find out more about cleaning and maintenance click here.

Warranties

Our powdercoat finishes are produced with powders supplied by industry leaders: Dulux and Interpon.

Darley is an accredited and certified applicator of the Dulux and Interpon High-Grade Architectural powders (Groups 4 & 5). These powders offer warranties from 15 to 25 years for Colour and Film Integrity (subject to powder manufacturers conditions).

As an accredited applicator, our Darley branches are regularly audited by our powdercoat suppliers and undergo sample checks of powdercoat application to ensure the highest of quality and industry standards.
